Claim	Disclosure
Goal to be carbon neutral by 2035 across our global operations Reductions in Scope 1 and 2 GHG emissions	In 2021, Comcast set a goal to be carbon neutral by 2035 for our Scope 1 and 2 greenhouse gas (“GHG”) emissions. Comcast reports our annual Scope 1 and 2 GHG emissions, compared to our 2019 base year, and our methodologies in our annual Carbon Footprint Data Report. Starting with 2022, our Scope 1 and 2 GHG emissions have been assured by an independent third party. Additional information can also be found on our Environment website, and in our most recent Impact Report, CDP Report and TCFD Report, each available on our ESG reporting website.
Goal to double network energy efficiency by 2030 Reductions in Electricity per Consumed Byte (“EPCB”)	In 2022, Comcast set a goal to double the energy efficiency of our network by 2030, compared to our 2019 baseline, as measured by the EPCB of data on our network. Annual progress towards this goal and information about the methods we are using to achieve it can be found in our annual Carbon Footprint Data Report, on our Environment website and in our most recent Impact Report, CDP Report and TCFD Report, each available on our ESG reporting website.
Emissions reductions from vehicles (e.g., 2024 Impact Report, page 53)	Emissions reduction claims from vehicles are calculated by comparing the annual emissions from mobile combustion for a vehicle fleet compared to the emissions from the vehicle fleet as it operated in our 2019 baseline year.
Emissions and energy reductions from green buildings (e.g., 2023 Green Bond Report, pages 6-8)	Emissions and energy reduction claims from green buildings are estimated based on modeling which compares the green building project to a baseline amount of energy or embodied carbon the building would have consumed had it been designed using conventional construction and operational practices.

Claim	Disclosure
Emissions reductions from sustainable production practices (e.g., Wicked article)	Emissions claims from sustainable production practices may be estimated from several methodologies: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Based on a comparison of the production’s Scope 1 and 2 carbon footprint (including electricity usage and fuels burned) to a baseline carbon footprint that would have resulted if the production did not undertake sustainable production practices (e.g., the use of grid electricity instead of generators, the use of renewable electricity and the use of low-carbon fuels). - Based on a comparison of the production’s carbon footprint to the carbon footprint of the prior series of the same production. - Based on a comparison of the production’s carbon footprint to an industry benchmark for that production type.
Handshake Box packaging achieves significant carbon reductions compared to previous packaging (e.g., Environment website)	Emissions reduction claims are based on the emissions to transport the new Handshake Box packaging solutions from their supplier to the required Comcast locations, compared to the transportation emissions of an equivalent quantity of the prior packaging solutions from their supplier to the same required Comcast locations.
