THE TRUTH ABOUT COMCAST AND NET NEUTRALITY.

- Comcast won't block your access to any lawful website you want to visit.

We believe in an open and accessible Internet.

- Comcast won't slow down the speed at which you download from a website on the Internet. We will treat all data equally, no matter who made it and no matter where it comes from.

- Comcast is the only company in America that has agreed to be legally bound by the U.S. Federal Communications Commission's Open Internet rules.

Even though many of these rules are no longer in place, Comcast still follows all of them.

Comcast believes the FCC's 2010 Open Internet rules strike a fair balance between protecting consumers and allowing us to manage our networks responsibly. Comcast will continue building a secure and open Internet so our customers can have the best possible online experience.

That's what we're for. And that's why we will extend Net Neutrality protection to millions of Time Warner Cable customers in cities across America.
